FOR ATTENTION OF: Steve Warren/Ocean Optics
TO BE RELEASED: ASAP
TODAY'S DATE: 6th June 2008

HAWAII'S KONA COAST

Photographers, photojournalists, Ocean Optics customers and BSOUP members Jeremy and Amanda Cuff have published a new PDF feature about Hawaii's Kona Coast which describes in words and images the experiences of diving this unique coastline.

Jeremy said, "We had a really good time diving Hawaii's Kona Coast, and we've enjoyed putting together this feature as a comprehensive overview of the trip. There's really nothing better than the incredible manta ray night dives."

The Hawaii Kona Coast feature can be viewed/downloaded from Jeremy and Amanda's website at www.ja-universe.com. Go to the "text" section, choose "Hawaii" and then scroll to the bottom of the page to find the link.

The website features a wide selection of photography and articles with particular emphasis on scuba diving and travel, although other topics such as abstracts and black and white photography are also included.

New work is regularly added to the JA-Universe website in the form of new galleries and articles, and also news items and an image of the month.
